

Instrument for Executive Branch and Public Services

1. Institution, name of the interviewee, contact, and position held.
2. As a member of CIAPEB, is the governance mechanism functional? What are the achievements to date? What are the constraints and challenges? What is the environment for the implementation of the human rights legal framework related to industrial lobster fishing in the Mosquitia?
3. Do you have an institutional presence in the Department of Gracias a Dios? Please detail the location, conditions and logistics of these offices.
4. Do you know the Occupational Health and Safety Regulations for Dive Fishing and do you apply them? Please explain.
5. Do you consider that your institution takes measures aimed at safeguarding the human rights of Afro-Honduran Indigenous Peoples, children, women and persons with disabilities related to industrial lobster fishing? Please explain.
6. Are there tangible benefits of industrial spearfishing for the country and the department of Gracias a Dios? Please explain.
7. Does your institution have a mechanism to make field inspections to know the conditions of the workers related to industrial spearfishing? Please explain.
8. Are you aware of any initiatives by industrial spearfishing companies that focus on social and environmental issues (either individually or in collaboration with other actors)?
9. Does your institution receive budget or support from donors from other countries, international organisations or other actors to work on issues of sustainability of industrial spearfishing and/or support divers in claiming their rights?
10. Is there a mechanism for the institution to know the conditions under which diving personnel who have suffered an accident are referred to the health care centre? For whom do they work? Who pays for the health care and what happens if they do not pay? Explain.
11. Are there administrative sanctions or incentives for companies (vessels) in case of recidivism or too many cases of dead, sick or injured divers?
12. A very emblematic case occurred in 2019 concerning the shipwreck of the WALLY, where more than 43 divers died. Were the families of the dead and missing compensated? Were the owners of this vessel sanctioned? Is there a file on who is in charge of it?

13. In the case of divers affected by decompression sickness, what action does the institution you represent take to ensure that they are treated in a timely manner?
14. Based on your experience, what recommendations would you give to industrial spearfishing companies in terms of good practices, respect and protection of human rights? Please explain.
15. Is there a grievance mechanism in your institution where the community can file a complaint if they have concerns about the company's impacts on human rights and the environment?
16. What are the gaps in the regulatory framework inherent to your institution? What are the constraints to implementing your regulatory framework?
